What's New?

■ I'm back from a great vacation to the Seattle and Vancouver area where I went for my brother's wedding. While spending extra time in the area, we got to explore the Seattle Art Museum and gain inspiration from tons of great local artwork. Keep an eye out for pieces in the future featuring designs inspired by the tremendous nature in the area as well.

■ The large teapot I've been working on is nearly complete. You can see the original sketch and what it now looks like in the collage above.

■ One of my gifts for my brother's wedding was a ring dish pictured above. Made specially for their wedding, it features their initials, wedding date, and other symbols of their love. If you are looking for a wedding, anniversary, or engagement gift, I can customize one for the happy couple of your choice.

■ Shangri-La Springs has unfortunately put their monthly art nights on hold for the off-season. All the more reason to come by our Art Night at the Cottages this summer to get your monthly dose of the local art scene!
